Hybrid Tomatoes: Seed is produced by a hand pollinated cross between two distinct parent lines.

Heirloom Tomatoes: An heirloom is generally considered to be a variety that has been passed down through several family generations because of its valued characteristics. Heirloom tomatoes were developed before 1950.

Open Pollinated Tomatoes: Seeds from open-pollinated varieties produce plants and fruits that are identical to their parent.

NOTE: All heirloom varieties are open-pollinated but not all open-pollinated varieties are heirlooms.
